MERCHANT MARINE CIRCULAR MMC-192

To: Owners/Operators of Panamanian flagged vessels, Recognized Organizations and users of the Panama Flag Registry.

Subject: Guidance on “Type Approvals” and “satisfaction of the Administration”.

Reference: Resolution N° 106-181-DGMM of December 24, 2021.

1. Purpose

- 1.1. The purpose of this Circular is to issue guidance on “Type approvals” and “the satisfaction of the Administration” criteria, in accordance with Resolution No. 106-181-DGMM of December 24, 2021, this Resolution revokes previous Resolution No. 106-34-DGMM of August 22, 2008.

2. Definitions

- 2.1. “Criteria of the Administration” or “satisfaction of the Administration”: means, in the first instance, the rules or interpretations developed and approved by specialized International Organizations and recognized by the International Maritime Organization (IMO), satisfying the requirements for each specific case. Besides, Panama’s interpretations may be established according to their scope to comply with certain provisions of the relevant international instruments.

3. Guidance for Type-Approved Equipment or Systems Acceptance

- 3.1. The equipment will be considered as accepted by the Republic of Panama in the following two (2) circumstances:
 - a) Equipment provided in technical specifications or operating standards of the International Maritime Organization (IMO), in which cases they have been developed and approved within the IMO Committees. The Recognized

Organizations must accept its use in vessels registered in the Republic of Panama for the equipment.

To clarify further the above indicated, "technical specifications or operating standards of the International Maritime Organization (IMO)" means, the performance standards established by the International Maritime Organization (IMO). Therefore, the Recognized Organizations shall ensure when verifying equipment or systems the type-approval certificate has been issued by other IMO member States. If new technologies require approval of the IMO Committees the Recognized Organizations shall verify that technology has been already approved.

- b) Equipment not addressed by technical specifications or operating standards approved by the International Maritime Organization (IMO) in which the relevant international instruments simply provide that the equipment must be type-approved, the Republic of Panama will accept:
- Equipment approved by traditional maritime countries that are members of the International Maritime Organization (IMO), which have national, regional or international provisions for the approval of certain types of equipment; therefore, the Recognized Organizations must accept such approved equipment.
 - Equipment approved under the standards developed by specialized International Organizations and recognized by the International Maritime Organization (IMO), such as the unified interpretations of the International Association of Classification Societies for equipment or materials on board.

To clarify further over the second bullet point, "the standards developed by specialized International Organizations" means, the ISO, IEC standards, and the International Association of Classification Societies (IACS) according to their specifications to approve equipment or materials on board their classed ships.

- 3.2. In both scenarios if any doubt exists about such approvals, then the Recognized Organizations may perform additional verification of the type-approved equipment or system.

4. Guidance concerning the “Criteria of the Administration” or “Satisfaction of the Administration”

- 4.1. This Administration will consider in the first instance the interpretations developed and approved by the International Maritime Organization (IMO). In their absence, the unified interpretations approved by the International Association of Classification Societies (IACS) may be used as a base to establish specific requirements to comply with certain provisions of the relevant international instruments.

- 4.2. However, if the Administration is not satisfied with any unified interpretation or no interpretation exists, then, its own interpretation will be established through the Merchant Marine Circulars or through individual statements according to the specific case.
